TEN DIE IN WRECK OF S. F. SCHOONER

THE C. A. SMITH STRANDS ON COOS BAY JETTY

FREIGHTER BREAKS UP ESCAPING CREW LOST

Driven Upon Submerged Breakwater Receives Broken Keel.—Coast Guard Looses Life in Rescue Work When Heavy Sea Fouls Boat.

Marshfield, Ore.—At least ten members of the crew of the specially built lumber schooner C. A. Smith of San Francisco, owned by the Coos Bay Lumber company, are believed to have lost their lives when the vessel was wrecked on the north jetty at the entrance to Coos Bay harbor while en route out to San Francisco.

The steam schooner lost headway in the extremely heavy sea breaking over the bar and started drifting. Despite frantic efforts of the crew, she slid stern first on the submerged jetty, then straddled it, breaking her back.

The life loss on the Smith was caused through loss of a boat which foundered after putting off from the wreck. The boat was seen to capsize, with eight or ten men in it. The lifesaving crew effected the rescue of seven men from the vessel.

W. G. Prescott, mate of the bar tug Wilson, which went out to the rescue of the Smith's crew, was lost after being once rescued, when he was swept overboard from the tug.

Prescott, attempting to straighten gear of the tug, which became fouled in the rough seas on the bar, was swept away. He was rescued by a lifesaving crew from nearby coast guard station, but while being resuscitated by the coast guardsmen was again swept from the boat by a heavy sea, together with Charles Norstrom, one of the guards. Norstrom was saved but Prescott's body was not seen again.

The steam schooner C. A. Smith was a wooden vessel of 1871 tons gross, 257.2 feet long, 50 feet beam and 15.4 feet in depth. She was built at North Bend, Oregon, in 1917 and has since been operated in the coastwise lumber trade.

NEW KEY ROUTE DEAL IS INDORSED BY THE RAIL BOARD

Sacramento.—The reorganization of all properties, held under foreclosure and sale, with a newly written total capitalization of $28,237,500, was authorized by the state railroad commission, bringing to a close two months of controversy before the commission and several years of wrangling among the various classes of stock and bond control in the old corporation, and recognized the unassailable validity of the foreclosure sale, and gives no force to the contentions of the holders of $15,000,000 common stock. It leaves open all questions of appraisal for rate-making purposes, and does not rule against the contentions of the city attorney of Oakland in that matter.

The commission ruled that all the reorganization expenses, reaching back for a period of many months and totaling $500,000, must be paid out of earned moneys available for interest charges and for dividends and must not be made a capital charge which (through fixing of rates etc.) would rest ultimately upon the public.

YEGG'S CHIEF AND AIDE CAPTURED AT STOCKTON

Stockton.—Hunted throughout the United States as the leader of a bandit gang believed to have been implicated in no less than twenty-five bank robberies in Montana alone, Arthur Davis, alias "Chicago Freddy" was run to earth here. He is said to be wanted by seven sheriffs on charges of robbing banks. At the same time the posse seized a man walking with Davis who was identified by Burns operatives as James Mack, known in seventeen different prisons under various aliases.

With drawn guns, Burns detectives from San Francisco and Stockton police pounced on Davis as he entered the Stockton postoffice to inquire for mail at the general delivery window.

Egypt Sends Her Envoys

Washington.—Egypt, youngest of the family of independent nations, will open an official legation here early in January, linking the ancient land of the pyramids, the cradle of civilization, with the foremost republic in the world for the first time in history. Trade relations with Egypt will be greatly benefitted by the close contact which will be afforded by the presence of an official representative here.

CONGRESS TO ASK PAYMENT OF DEBTS

HINTS FOR LIQUIDATION WILL BE PASSED OUT

LEGISLATIVE DEMANDS ON FOREIGN DEBTORS

Only Six of Twenty Nations Owing Uncle Sam Have Taken Steps to Make Payments.—Cuba Is Fully Paid Up.

Washington.—A congressional demand that eight of the foreign nations that owe the United States for war-time loans be sent "reminders," was regarded as probable as a result of disclosures of the status of the debt funding negotiations by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in his annual report.

Mellon revealed that only six of the twenty debtor nations have taken serious steps toward funding their debts. Six other nations have virtually been dropped from consideration, temporarily at least, for various reasons. The remaining eight are Belgium, France, Italy, Hungary, Esthonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Jugoslavia.

The six nations that have made concrete overtures toward funding are Cuba, who has paid her debt in full; Great Britain and Finland, who have funded on a permanent basis; and Czechoslovakia, Poland and Rumania, who have appointed representatives who are hard at work preparing for funding.

The six nations which have been dropped from consideration for the present are Armenia, Greece and Russia, who have no governments recognized by the United States; Austria and Liberia, whose debts were suspended by special legislation of congress, and Nicaragua, whose debt, for certain reasons, is regarded as in funded form.

Mellon disclosed in his annual report to congress that Latvia, in answer to the commission's invitation to send representatives to Washington to enter debt funding negotiations, asked, instead, that the commission come to Latvia.

The commission, which is composed of Mellon, Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Senator Smoot and Representative Burton, though stunned by this request, nevertheless gravely replied that "under existing legislation the commission as composed will be unable to negotiate in Europe" and suggested again that Latvia send its negotiators here.

AN INSURANCE PLOT TO SAVE KELS ALLEGED BY GOVERNOR

Sacramento.—Three members of the state prison board are involved in charges contained a statement issued by Governor Richardson that a frame up has been made to prevent the hanging of Alexander Kels, that policy holders on the Lodi murderer will not be compelled to pay $105,000, divided among several companies, and the governor asserts that Judge C. E. McLaughlin, a member of the state prison board, is a director in one of the companies, and, according to the governor's statement, the new spinal fluid test, which the prison board has just directed Warden J. J. Smith of the Folsom prison to make, is a part of this alleged plan to "prevent the execution of the law" by providing grounds for a claim of insanity or paresis on the part of Kels.

The other two of the "three directors," mentioned in Richardson's statement, are Albert Boynton of San Francisco and B. B. Meek of Oroville, it was asserted at the state capitol.

STATE PRISON BOARD MEN DENY KELS PLOT CHARGES

San Francisco.—Charges of Governor Richardson that an order for a new spinal test on Alex Kels, sentenced to hang January 4 for the slaying of an itinerant laborer at Lodi, was part of a conspiracy by members of the state prison board to prevent his hanging and protect insurance companies holding Kels' policies, were denied by Judge C. E. McLaughlin of Sacramento, president of the state prison board, and Albert E. Boynton, board member. "The fight to save the life of Kels is futile," Boynton said. "Regardless of the result of the new spinal test, as ordered by the prison board, Warden Smith of Folsom prison does not intend to start proceedings to have Kels examined for his sanity."

Governor Richardson stood on his charges of a "frame-up." The spinal test will not determine sanity or insanity, but may reveal communicable disease of paresis.

CAMPBELL QUINTS DEFEAT PALO ALTO

Campbell high basketeers again demonstrated their prowess Friday evening by showing up the Palo Alto bunch by big margins. The first game, between 130's, was a fine exhibition of team work, outclassing the visitors at every stage of the game. The score was 4 to 14. The Campbell boys lined up: G. Eddlemon and Nelson, forwards; J. Nishita and E. Gerow, guards and E. Clark, center. Warren Eddlemon played part time. All the team played on their toes and their speed was very noticeable.

The arrival of the unlimited team showed a marked difference in weights. B. Reed and H. Shelley, guards; C. Jensen, center; A. Bonnaccorso and F. Blaine forwards; S. Reed, R. Steindorf and W. Murphy were part-timers. Again the locals outplayed the Pallies in a very fast game, scoring 33 to the visitors 13. The P-A's scored only two field goals making the other 9 points on fouls.

Our boys will meet the two Mountain View teams here this afternoon and harder games are expected for the Viewers are playing a good net game.

MUSICAL PROGRAM AT CLUB MEETING

One of the many pleasant events of the holiday season was the musical afternoon enjoyed by the Country Woman's Club Monday.

Mrs. L. J. Carboni was chairman of the committee, with Mrs. Shadle, Mrs. Cooley, and Miss Arnott as assistants. The leader read an interesting paper on music, and Mrs. Cooley one on Chinese music and instruments, this being in line with the general study of China which the club is making.

Mrs. Shadle, whose sweet voice is always a welcome addition to any entertainment, sang two groups of songs, "Her Rose" and "A Japanese Love Song," and at the close of the afternoon, "Cupid's Mistake" and "O Dry Those Tears."

Several phonograph records were played, some illustrating oriental music—"Chinese Lullaby," and "The Bell Song" sung by Galli Curci. Miss Arnott played two interesting piano numbers, "The Chinese Music Box" and "The Brook," and Mrs. Carboni sang a "Love Song of India" and a "Chinese Tragedy."

In keeping with the Christmas season, several Christmas hymns and carols sung by the Trinity Choir of New York were played on the phonograph, followed by two charming piano numbers by Miss Florence Williams, "Polonnaise" by Chopin and a "Cradle Song."

The business meeting which preceeded the program was of interest also. Miss Cohen, president of the Los Gatos History Club, was present and gave an account of the work being done by her club and also of the purchase and equipment of their club house.

Mrs. Kennedy reported a County Federation meeting and others told of the delightful meeting held in Saratoga last week to which the club was invited.

SHOWERED BY FRIENDS

Miss Amy Farley was tendered a shower party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. E. R. Kennedy.

Following the regular choir rehearsal at the church the choir adjourned to Mrs. Kennedy's, ostensibly for practice of Christmas music. Upon arriving they found the members of the Epworth League assembled and a dummy figure faced the door, dressed in bridal array and surrounded by gifts.

The affair was a total surprise and a very happy occasion. After the inspection of the gifts, Mah Jongg was enjoyed and Miss Olive Hanger played several piano numbers.

G. M. Ellison underwent two operations on his eyes Tuesday. One eye was removed and the other was treated to improve the sight which was steadily failing. It will be many days before the result of the latter operation is known. He is at Mt. Zion hospital and Dr. Green, one of the best specialists on the coast, performed the operation.

PUNDITAS GIVE CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The annual Christmas festival of the Pundita Circle was held Wednesday: afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. H. Cramer. A very interesting program in which the small children of the members participated was given under the direction of Mrs. Purmort and Mrs. Cramer.

A Christmas song was sung by Lee Gillis and Hugh Cramer, followed by an account of Christmas observances in various lands, with a history of the origin of Yuletide.

Mrs. Hanger recounted the Christmas customs of England and during her recital Bobbie Burrows brought in the Yule log, miniature in size and Billy Mumma carried out the bundle of grain for the birds as customary in those countries.

One of the customs of southern European countries is that of arranging a little Bethlehem Inn beneath the Christmas tree. The little girl who was to have carried out this custom was sick, so Lee Gillis and Mrs. Carboni arranged it.

Sally Davidson was the little French girl who put the shoe by the Yule log and placed the ashes under the bed.

Betty Thaysen was the Spanish girl who brought in the Urn of Fate.

Hans Thaysen was the Italian shepherd who went about presenting spoons to those on whom later they would call at Christmas time.

Mrs. Cramer then recounted customs prevalent in various sections of our own country and outlying possessions. Little Betty Mumma represented the New England Puritan, and Hugh Cramer dressed in characteristic costume sang a Santa Claus song.

Gifts for the children were then taken from a prettily decorated tree and the elders drew theirs from a grab basket. Dainty individual cakes bearing lighted red candles were served with coffee, and each tray bore a tiny bunch of switches, this ceremonial terminating an exceedingly pretty and interesting function.

SUNDAY SERVICES

Sunday morning at 11:00 the Congregational church will hold its Christmas service. The pastor will bring a special Christmas message and the large chorus choir will furnish several Christmas numbers.

Sunday evening at the 5:30 vesper service the Intermediate C. E. Society will give a songalogue (formerly called Story and Song Service) entitled "A Christmas of Her Own." There is a beautiful little Christmas story which will be read by Miss Violet Otterman interspersed with Christmas songs.

Immediately at the close the Mission Study Class will convene.

Next Monday evening, Christmas Eve, at 7:00 the Congregational Sunday School will have its Christmas program. For half an hour there will be pictures that all will enjoy and afterward a good time in the church parlors with some surprises for the children. The parents are invited to come with the children and share in their good time. We will be through in good time for those who wish to have their home Christmas on that evening.

George Williams, 70, a farmer of the Grass Valley vicinity, died recently in the same house where he was born. He was a bachelor.

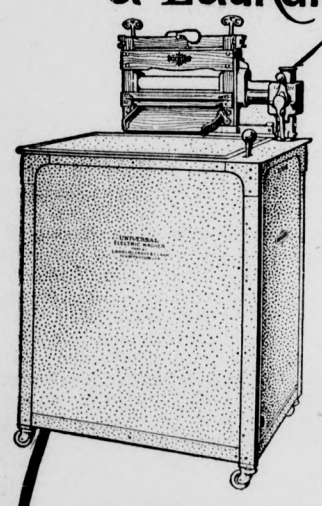
UNIVERSAL ELECTRIC WASHER

The way to keep a Laundress—



is to keep the "Universal" Electric Washer in your laundry.

"NO Washing!" is the battle cry of the modern maid who is requested to scrub clothes on the washboard and parboil her hands in hot, sudsy water. The easier the washing, the easier to keep the laundress.

THE "Universal" Washer calms the rebellious spirit of the temperamental laundress. She likes to work it just for the fun of it. She works the washer without working herself to excess. She rests while it washes, saves time while it wrings.

THE "Universal" does the cleanest washing the quickest, safest way. In has every improvement that can be devised to give it enduring value. Let us prove its greater worth by its better work.

We'll place it in your home on trial. Call or 'phone.

Presents from Santa

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Cluas, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle to see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. It is all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the hearts of childhood.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

Sceretary of State Charles E. Hughes has made a statement to the world of the position of the United States in world affairs. He reiterates the often stated position of the United States as one of disinterested concern in international affairs. The policy of this government is to mind its own business and allow other nations to do likewise. Secretary Hughes has restated this with a clearness and force that will leave no doubt as to our position in world affairs. He maintains that while we are interested in having world problems solved and are willing to lend assistance in the solution of them. We do not propose to get mixed up in international quarrels. As he states the matter, our detachment and impartiality could not long be maintained if we should substitute the role of a partisan in European quarrels.. The Monroe Doctrine, which originally was a demand that European nations should keep hands off territory on this side of the Atlantic, has been expanded and amplified until today it embraces anything and everything in international affairs that affects the security and welfare of the United States. The Secretary has made it very clear and certain that there will be no entangling alliances for Uncle Sam.

OF ALL greetings that express tidings of this season, none so aptly speaks the heart as the oldest phrase of all: "Merrie Christmasse & a Happie Newe Yere."

AN EMPIRE IN THE MAKING

Like a drama of human achievement California has been unfolding the story of her progress. First it was the prologue of pioneers days—the days when California's message of the discovery of gold thrilled the entire world and recruited brave hearts from many lands. Then came the epic of the wheat. More recently it has been that of the golden fruit.

Now the curtain is raising on the grand ensemble in which mining, agriculture, horticulture, industry and commerce are raising their voices in one great pageant. It is a hymn of joy dedicated to the empire of the Pacific now in the making.

No one who sees, hears or feels can doubt but what California today is passing across the threshhold into an era of greatness such as the West has not yet known. Whoever goes abroad through the state's fertile valleys or journeys to her prosperous cities feels this quickened pulse of prosperity and progress.

It is the reward of unity of purpose, co ordination of effort, and co-operation that means the north and the south reaching out a helping hand to each other, the dropping of petty rivalries between sections, communities and groups.

Just as charity begins at home, so does co-operation. If a community does not co-operate within its own groups, it can hardly expect to work in harmony and helpfulness with its sister communities. Our Improvement Club is the established and tested medium for the expression of this co-ordinated effort. If you are in business, if you own property, you are vitally interested in the progress of your community and should exercise the full prerogatives of active citizenship.

Join your Improvement Club and you will become a full-fleged partner in the greatest period of development that this section and California as a whole have ever experienced.

HOLD-UP SCHEME

A new scheme for getting money under false pretense is being worked on the unsuspecting public who is ready to help a down-and-outer, deserving or not. A troop of magazine subscription solicitors were in our vicinity using the plea of securing a scholarship to a certin school. The subscriber paid a sum down varying from one dollar up. Later on closer inspection of the contract, a clause was found declaring the contract void after September 1st, 1923.

Such means of securing money is a more recent form of hold-up game. Cases of this kind should be reported to the sheriff that the offenders may be apprehended and properly dealt with.

E. KAY DROWNED

Friends of Ebenezer Kay were shocked to hear of his tragic death last week at Hollister. Mr. Kay who was a former resident of Campbell, was drowned in shallow water in his well pit.

A workman saw him start to descend the well and not noting his return went to investigate. He found him face down in shallow water, and altho a physician attempted resusitation, life was extinct. The deceased must have fallen or in some way been rendered unconscious, as the depth of water was not dangerous.

Funeral services were held Monday and interment made at Oak Hill.

W. E. Reichert of Lower Lake was down on business the first of the week.

Mrs. V. R. Miser and infant son who have spent the week here with Mrs. Geo. Phelps, returned to San Francisco today. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Stella Leviston, who will spend a few days visiting there.

The Merchantile Trust Company is having a new electric sign erected in front of the bank. It is of copper in clock style, 10 feet high with automatic clock lighting system. It is lighted with 52 electric globes within, lighting both sides. S. Genasci and Son are making the electrical connections that our citizens may soon see the new light.

A Busy Man Today

Congressman Arthur M. Free, of this district will be a mighty busy man during this session of Congress. The House of Representatives today selected him for membership on four committees: Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Immigration and Naturalization, Expenditures of the Department of Justice, and Mileage.

The Immigration and Naturalization Committee is one of the busiest in Congress, and deals with questions vital to the whole nation, but especially vital to California, as it deals with the matter of Japanese exclusion, which is such a live issue in California today. Mr. Free returned to Washington several weeks before Congress convened, in order to collaborate with members of this committee, which is to immediately present a bill restricting immigration and excluding the Japanese.

The Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries is considering legislation which is designed to keep the United States flag on the seas. Prior to the war our flag had disappeared from Merchant ships, and this committee is considering legislation designed to prevent the reocurrence of this disaster. The committee also handles all legislation in regard to Navigable Waters. The question of salmon fishing in Alaska is to receive immediate attention, as the salmon are rapidly being exterminated.

In addition to his work in Congress, Mr. Free is President of the California State Society of Washington, D. C. This society has a membership of nearly three hundred, has monthly meetings and pays especial attention to matters of interest to California.

Mr. Free is also president of the Stanford Club of Washington. There are about one hundred graduates of Stanford University in Washington, and this society endeavors to keep in close touch with the University and perpetuate the Stanford spirit.

Community Building

LAYING OUT THE NEW TOWN

Highly Important Points That Will Count in the Future Development of the Place.

To build a new town successfully and quickly there are many mighty important factors involved, says B. E. Taylor, prominent Detroit real estate dealer. The site should be selected with care. Provisions should be made in laying out the new town, that sites be provided for schools, churches, playgrounds, recreation fields, town hall, fire department and the like.

Finances, transportation, churches, schools, water, efficient construction department and selling force are absolute necessities.

To speed growth of the new town proceed to build 1,000 or 2,000 houses at once. This will encourage others to build and give activity at once to all phases of life in the new community.

To see new houses going up by the thousands is much more reassuring to your prospective new resident than a mere prediction they will be built.

There is a distinct advantage for a man in selecting a suburban home to purchase his new home in a new town provided the originator of the new town gives the impetus to the new community by building a couple of thousand new homes at once. Then improvements, schools, churches, transportation, a community social life follow almost immediately.

Warrants charging brutal beating of two mental patients of the veterans' hospital No. 24 Menlo Park, were issued for two former attendants of the hospital, William DeBaere and Claud Carzine. The assualt is alleged to have taken place December 6.

Six chief petty officers of the U. S. S. Procyon, navy supply ship, and three civilians were rescued from the rocky San Clemente island, 60 miles south of San Pedro, where they were marooned for five days. The 50-ton fishing boat in which they sailed to the island capsized while at anchor in a storm-swept cove.

A youthful bandit who held up and robbed a Modesto business man, was shot and probably fatally wounded by an officer near the scene of the robbery. He gave his name as Jim Harris of Pittsburg.

K. S. White, Los Angeles police officer, shot and killed Harold Murphy in a gun battle and was later assaulted by two friends of the victim who wielded a knife and a section of gas pipe.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS"

The King of the Hill

By Christopher G. Hazard

(©, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE long hill glistened in the winter moonlight like a frosted cake. The road that ran down it like a silvered ribbon, reaching across the railroad track and on through the valley, lost itself in a shimmering haze of snowy whiteness. The wind, as if afraid of awakening the sleeping town had hushed itself into stillness, waiting along the way and under the shadows of the quiet trees for the signal of dawn. The scene was an invitation to a sport now largely displaced by rushing motor cars, but then one of the chief delights of the Christmas season. The bobsled of those days and nights was the pride of owners and the prize winner of competitions. The annals of the Slater Hill race course registered triumphs as real and momentous as those of any race track.

The moon had watched with an expectant eye until ten of the clock and was about to retire under a passing cloud in disappointment, when the clamor and shouting of an approaching crowd renewed its spirit. From a side street they came, merry lads and lasses, with those of later years who had not forgotten how to be young. Soon the head of the hill was crowded with competitors and the air rang with the bustling preparations for the first race.

The sleds of that time were no ordinary affairs. Large enough to hold from four to six passengers, they rejoiced in significant titles and all the beauty and comfort that their maker's art could put into shape, paint and upholstery. When loaded and on a steep and icy road they were swift enough to distance the wind, and, uncontrolled by bit and bridle, they could not be stopped before reaching the foot of the incline. There was thus enough of adventure in their trips to furnish the tingling excitement that kept out the winter cold. The good-natured rivalry, too, gave interest to the sport.

This year there was a special reason for the gathering, for Tom Atkins, having received a Christmas present of a sled of the latest style and named "The King of the Hill," had been boasting that the title was a just one and arousing all the determination that the others had to prove him wrong. The "Dart," the "Racer," the "Dauntless," the "Peerless," and others as glorious were eager to beat the untried and vaunting newcomer.

The first race was inconclusive, for Atkins got a false start and tipped his load over into a snow bank. The second and the third races gave the laurels to the "Dart" and the "Peerless," respectively, and left Atkins' heart in his boots; but the fourth attempt ended with "The King of the Hill" a rod ahead and with its owner's chin protuberant and uplifted. Then time went by with varying fortunes until the concluding and deciding contest. It was agreed that the winner of this final should be crowned the king of the hill indeed, with none to dispute his right.

Amid the hubbub of these last arrangements no one had heard the distant whistle of "The Flyer," as the night express for Boston was called, and the competing sleds dashed away down the long descent without a thought of danger, nor, until half way down, did any danger appear, but then the locomotive's headlight flashed around the curve and upon the crossing, now but a short distance away, with a baleful and threatening glare. The other sleds, somewhat in the rear, were steered into the roadside snow or left to take care of themselves as their riders rolled off, but "The King of the Hill" kept on, in seeming ignorance of the imminent collision. Not until the warning blasts of the engine whistle seemed to startle him into action did Atkins move to save himself and his load. Then, with a wrench of his steering gear and a sturdy leg-sweep, he brought his sled about, throwing it over upon its side and upon its frightened load as the train swept by, almost brushing them on its way.

It was what the barber called "a close shave," and what Atkins called "as good as a mile," but the boys called it a victory and rode Atkins home on "The King of the Hill" with their full indorsement of the title.

The old hill is still there. It glitters yet in Christmas moonlights. But the boys and girls of the bobsled time have grown old, the later generation has new toys, and the glorious fun of Slater's Hill is but a memory. A pleasant memory it is, though, and that is a brave, bright spot in it that registers the night when Tom Atkins got a double score in beating both the racers and the train on his "King of the Hill."
